Hoopa Valley Tribe
COVID-19 Alert Level System

Revised October 27, 2020
The Hoopa Valley Reservation is the ancestral home of the Hupa People. The Hoopa Valley Reservation, California’s largest Reservation is located in the northeastern portion of Humboldt County. The Hoopa Valley Reservation, is shaped geometrically similar to a square with sides approximately 12 miles in length. Hoopa Valley is located about 65 miles east of Eureka and 120 miles west of Redding. It is 12 miles north of Willow Creek and 10 miles South of Weitchpec, where the Trinity River flows into the Klamath River. The valley floor, an alluvial plain approximately 6 miles long by 1-mile-wide, and considered the Urban Zone, is bisected in a north-south direction by the meandering Trinity River. The Hoopa Valley is separated into eight (8) districts, or fields, which represent traditional villages of the Hupa People. The Hoopa Valley Tribe has a population of 3,473 tribal residents. And the daytime population exceeds 5,000.

The criteria for the trigger points and alert levels for the Hoopa Tribe is based on multiple, unique, conditions. These include:

- High levels of high-risk COVID-19 comorbidities, including diabetes, hypertension, smoking, obesity;
- The fire risk, and ongoing fires in the region, aggravate respiratory illnesses, including asthma.

Tribal lands are over 60 miles on windy roads from the nearest intensive Care unit-equipped hospital in Eureka, California. Substantial fog can limit visibility on roads closer to the coast, and may present a problem for any aeromedical evacuations. There is limited ambulance capacity, and no local aeromedical evacuation resource, rotary or fixed wing.

The Hoopa Tribe, along with other Tribal Nations’ People, has a population identified by the Center for Disease Control (CDC) as having risk elevated for more serious, adverse outcomes by 3.5 times compared to the overall domestic population. Strong, foundational, family relationships, particularly matrilineal home care and large household family size, increases the problems encountered in providing isolation and quarantine at home. There is limited lodging capacity to provide isolation and quarantine in a safe manner for infected individuals, and contacts.

Due to limited medical center, and the small population size, the community has limited emergency response infrastructure, and a pair of infections, in a critical infrastructure facility, including Kima:w Medical Center, could disable the community’s ability to respond to cases. There is limited contact tracing capacity, making it likely that even a small number of cases, in a short time, would overwhelm contact tracing.

The State of California sets phased standards for counties based on numbers of new cases per 100,000 population and percent positive daily tested cases. In the Hoopa Valley, the tribal population is about 3,500 persons and number of tests completed at the clinic will vary widely day by day. Due to the much smaller populations size, the wide variation in percent positive tests and the above mentioned specific concerns of this community and tribe, the State of California guidelines are inappropriate for use. Specific recommendations for the Hoopa Tribe have been created based on this information.

HOOPA VALLEY TRIBE COVID-19 ALERT LEVEL SYSTEM

The Hoopa Valley Tribal Office of Emergency Services (OES) in collaboration with the Public Health Threat (PHT) COVID-19 Incident Management Team (IMT), K’ima:w Medical Center, the State of California, and the Humboldt County Health Department has created the following Alert Level System for the purpose of establishing safety protocols, and risk-level management for local businesses, tribal departments and schools. Information specific to vulnerable tribal communities was incorporated.

The following Community Alert Level Indicators have been created specifically to suit our small and unique demographics while following a similar format set by Humboldt County. These indicators were developed with helpful review and feedback from the Center for Disease Control and Prevention (CDC) staff.

Hoopa Valley Tribe Re-Opening Action Plan (revised 10/27/20)
Document developed by Hoopa Office of Emergency Services Deputy Incident Commander Wendy Ferris-George, Operations Section Chief Allie Hostler, Public Information Officer Patrick Jackson and Safety Officer Abraham Canez; FEMA Liaison Angela Goldman; K’ima:w Medical Center Dr. Stephen Stave; CDC review provided by Dr. Konrad Hayashi, Health Statistician Dana Haberling and Dr. Scott Santibañez.
The following graphic indicates what overall actions are to be taken specific to the current community alert level.

Details of COVID-19 Level Activities

Level Zero (0): There is no threat as there is an FDA-approved vaccine; the vaccine is widely available, safe, and effective and nearly all of the Nation’s population is vaccinated. This assures their risk of being infected by natural virus is nearly eliminated for all those who receive the vaccine. There may be a few who are unable to be vaccinated for medical reasons.

Level One (1): For Level 1, and all higher number levels- Basic precautions everyone should take include: keeping six-foot distance from others, wearing a mask when outside the home, and frequent handwashing. This would include when there have been no cases in the last 28 days, or more. Community actions include educating the community, especially those who are at higher risk (e.g., history of cancer, obesity, diabetes, heart conditions, lung conditions including asthma, kidney disease, auto-immune diseases, HIV-infection, pregnancy, and conditions requiring high-dose steroid treatment).

Hoopa Valley Tribe Re-Opening Action Plan (revised 10/27/20)
Document developed by Hoopa Office of Emergency Services Deputy Incident Commander Wendy Ferris-George, Operations Section Chief Allie Hostler, Public Information Officer Patrick Jackson and Safety Officer Abraham Cama; FEMA Liaison Angela Goldman; K'Imaw Medical Center Dr. Stephen Stake; CDC review provided by Dr. Konrad Hayashi, Health Statistician Dana Haberling and Dr. Scott Santibañez.
Level 1 is in effect when there is a low risk of transmission, enabling greater community interactions, while still maintaining a safe distance, mask wearing, and frequent handwashing.

Level Two (2): In addition to all items in Level 1- Due to the presence of COVID-19 cases within the last 28 day period, and slight decreases in community resource capacity, the Hoopa Valley Tribe needs to implement actions to minimize the chance of disease spread. This includes rigorous case investigation and contact investigation. Those identified as case contacts (i.e., A case contact is anyone who has spent 15 minutes or longer within six (6) feet of a positive case) need to self-quarantine for 14 days from their date of last contact with any known case. Lodging for cases should be separate from others when available to minimize additional contacts. They should be provided with food, medications, and other supplies so they remain in isolation at their designated lodging. Those who are contacts need to be monitored daily for the development of signs and symptoms consistent with COVID-19, and the contacts should also be advised to notify their monitor, as well as K’ima:w Medical Center, if they develop signs and symptoms of COVID-19. Those who are cases should advise their monitor if they develop more severe signs/symptoms (e.g., shortness of breath, bluing of skin or gums, chest pain, new problems with thinking or change in level of consciousness) as they will need to get prompt medical treatment. Remote operations / working from home, is preferred to decrease workplace interactions. Tribal public information will include sharing with the community the presence of cases, and limiting exposure outside the household. Business activities can continue provided they follow COVID-19 precautions to minimize risk of person-to-person spread. Actions at this stage can limit development of additional cases in the community.

Level Three (3): In addition to all items in Level 2- This level would warrant considering mandatory home-quarantine for all households with exceptions for getting groceries, gasoline, and other vital actions. Minimizing travel outside the Hoopa Tribe should be considered, excepting vital activities (e.g., medical appointments, car repairs). Commercial activities minimized with the exception of those that can be conducted remotely, and critical/vital operations (e.g., food vendors, water treatment, emergency medical, pharmacy). This indicates that case numbers are rising, approaching a level that would overtax capacities of the Hoopa Valley Tribe.

Level Four (4): In addition to all items in Level 3, shut down non-essential business functions to minimize interaction between households and business activities. Non-critical/non-vital operations are to limit any in-person operations, and critical/vital operations should operate with the minimum of staff and staggered work hours to the maximum extent possible.

Operations

The Hoopa Valley Tribe will operate under CDC health guidelines implemented by KMC. As new cases are identified, KMC will work with Humboldt County Health Department to conduct contact tracing. KMC will manage the medical needs of cases. Office of Emergency Services (OES) will manage food and sheltering needs of persons in isolation/quarantine.

Re-opening of the community will occur in phases as described within the Community Alert Level Indicators. Every Tribal Department Manager is required to submit a re-opening safety plan to the Incident Management Team Safety Officer. The Safety Officer will review each plan based on CDC and tribal guidelines for safety and infection control, only approving those that are satisfactory. Measures must be put in place to protect both employees and customers. Based on the identified alert levels, departments can begin to re-open as directed. The Safety Officer will complete compliance checks with each department to ensure safety protocols are being followed (confirming physical distancing and cleanliness measures are being implemented).

Following guidelines set by the State of California and the Center for Disease Control and Prevention, Tribal Resources have been identified as Essential or Non-Essential. Essential departments and employees will continue to function and provide services to the community throughout all community alert levels (refer to the following matrix for department/entity specific status). Prior to opening, a safety plan must be submitted to and approved by the Incident Management Team Safety Officer. Non-essential departments may re-open when the conditions reach defined levels that allow for safe re-opening. The Safety Officer or department manager may decide not to open the department if adequate staffing levels are not met, required physical distancing is not deemed possible, or another element of the safety plan cannot be followed.

Hoopa Valley Tribe Re-Opening Action Plan (revised 10/27/20)
Document developed by Hoopa Office of Emergency Services Deputy Incident Commander Wendy Ferris-George, Operations Section Chief Allie Hostler, Public Information Officer Patrick Jackson and Safety Officer Abraham Canez; FEMA Liaison Angela Goldman; K'imaw Medical Center Dr. Stephen Stake; CDC review provided by Dr. Konrad Hayashi, Health Statistician Dana Haberling and Dr. Scott Santibañez.
School Re-opening

The superintendent of Klamath-Trinity Joint Unified School District has worked directly with the OES Safety Officer to determine a safety plan for continued educational needs of KTJUSD students. This plan has been submitted and approved.

Use of Personal Protective Equipment (PPE)

All departments must continue use of PPE in the workspace. Each Department Manager is required to attempt to procure PPE for their department. If there are no resources available, OES will procure and provide those PPE needs to include masks, hand sanitizer, gloves, gowns, and face shields. The Incident Management Team Safety Officer at safety@hoopaoes.org or (707) 630-7351 for PPE requests.
OES recommends the Tribe continue to mandate the use of facial coverings per the Tribal face mask order, CDC recommendations, and state guidelines throughout all levels of the pandemic, until Level 0 is reached.

Tribal Lands Re-opening

When the reservation has been at Level 1 for at least two (2) weeks (6 weeks with no new cases), tribal lands can re-open for visitors by Hoopa Valley Tribal Council majority vote. Each department that has direct access by the public must continue to follow their approved safety plan after the Tribal lands have re-opened.

Stay at Home Order

The Hoopa Valley Tribe’s OES recommends the Hoopa Valley Tribe follow its Stay-at-Home Order. This Order allows activity to access essential, low-risk, some high-risk services, and outdoor recreation. People at higher risk of severe illness from COVID-19, such as those with two or more diseases or medical conditions and elders, should stay at their residence to the extent possible. When people need to leave their residences, they should comply with distancing guidelines (such as keeping 6 feet from others who are not part of household unit) at all times.

OES recommends the Hoopa Valley Reservation utilize Stay-at-Home Order A while operating in Level 1 or 2. When conditions allow to operate under Level 3 or 4, Stay-at-Home Order B will be in effect. Under either Stay at Home Order A or B, the community should continue to limit their activity with non-household members outside of their home. At-risk individuals, elders, or anyone with a compromised health status should continue to stay at home as much as possible.

As the Hoopa Community moves from one level to another, it will be the authority of the Incident Commander to release level changes to the public. KMC’s Public Health Officer will advise of these changes by notifying the Tribal government, the Hoopa Valley Tribe’s OES, and community through departmental email and Public Service Announcements. The Hoopa Valley Tribe’s Incident Management Team, under OES, will remain active until KMC can effectively manage the medical and at-home needs of COVID-19 cases.
